

Kenneth Malm, a local of the D.C. Metro area, has been in the building industry for over 30 years. Mr. Malm founded The Craftmark Group in 1991 and is currently the President. Craftmark is consistently ranked in the top 100 builders nationally by Professional Builder Magazine and is one of the largest privately held homebuilders in the Washington region. The Craftmark Group, comprised of Craftmark Homes and Craftstar Homes, has delivered hundreds of homes each year since the mid 1990's. Mr. Malm and The Craftmark Group received recognition as winners of the Greater Washington Entrepreneur of the Year Award, Large Volume Builder of the Year Award from the Suburban Maryland Building Industry Association, and over 50 other awards for design and quality. Ken Malm holds an undergraduate degree from the University of Virginia. Not only is Kenneth Malm an entrepreneur, but he is also a philanthropist. For the past seven years Mr. Malm has been a strong supporter of affordable housing. Mr. Malm's relationship with HFH-MC began in 2003 when he and his company, The Craftmark Group, donated four lots in Silver Spring, which became HFH-MC's Forest Glen project. Three years later, Mr. Malm joined the HFH-MC Board of Directors. Kenneth Malm has been a tremendous asset to HFH-MC. His extensive homebuilding experience and his numerous donations have helped Habitat further their goal of providing simple, decent, and affordable homeownership opportunities to low-income families in Montgomery County.
