

Tony Gacek is the Executive Director of the Building Systems Councils of the National Association of Home Builders. Mr. Gacek oversees the advancement of the systems-built industry which includes homes built with a concrete, log, modular, or panelized building technique. Tony previously worked in residential construction management where he built more than 100 single family homes in Montgomery County. Prior to his career in the housing industry, Mr. Gacek was a television sports anchor and reporter at an NBC affiliate in West Virginia. He has a Bachelor of Science in Journalism from Ohio University. Tony began working with Habitat for Humanity in high school and has been working with the organization ever since. He began volunteering at Habitat sites in Pennsylvania and West Virginia and joined the HFH-MC Board of Directors in 2010.